

Title: What does it mean to Share?

Writer: Carol L Brunk

Date: May 5, 2014

Email: carol.brunk@yahoo.com

Cell: 224-239-9877

Common standard definition defines a word. The word SHARE can be a topic, a category, a placement, an action, a way of life for many in altered circumstances. It's a lateral pyramid to climb, examine, appreciate used correctly. Misuse, misunderstanding can result in DISASTER for both individuals involved or many involved. The word Disaster converted to Share equals misuse and misunderstandings.

What does the word Share mean that's beneficial to all? The definition in the dictionary states the general understanding of giving a portion or part to others. The key word is now beneficial to you and to others in the word Share. The thought process as well as the life situation in life of when it truly is beneficial. A good thing to do at the right time/moment in life.

A comparative over time from very small to very large sharing in relation to individual sharing – not corporate stock holder. It's the knowing WHEN in each situation the word Share can be applied- a small gestural Share that is giving to a more advanced level when possible. Though individuals are taught to Share, sharing at a very, very young age i.e. the toddler with its toy expanded to the adult to its income, clothing, food, service to others. The older individuals in circumstances and situations in life change/enhance to an advancement of a Share to be contributed to others due to economic state.

The economic station state in which we live may be beneficial but depending on what an individual's situation within the economy- meaning economic state- lifestyle expenditures of rent, food, transportation costs, etc. depends upon if an individual is able to or not able to contribute –Share- and how often. The meaning that an individual that has a lifestyle that includes a house, car and family does NOT always have the income to contribute if any at all depending on situations that suddenly arise. Its unexpected expenditures due to health (sickness), etc. means that individual can or can Not contribute or Share. Depending on an individual's current life situations combined with lifestyle.

The economic station states that are at the lower to the lowest with NO income, Share comes beneficial in the process of knowledge as a possibility. Knowledge of where people are located that could possibly help/contribute to getting themselves out of the lower/lowest economic state such as locations of library, clothing center, food pantries, soup kitchens, health care workers, etc. People or individuals that help or point in a direction where others may help for whatever the need be. The one person theory may apply- one person can help me with this, another person can help me with that, another person can help me with the other. Not all individuals can expect or rely or find that only one person (individual) can do everything for you or provide everything for you – depending on the circumstances it may take a lot of one person individuals combined together by one person's self to get back in the direction to achieve or maintain a better living/life and lifestyle.

The word Share used positively means to be beneficial to others and the individual that gives/ contributes. The word Share used negatively means if you do NOT have the income, food, extra clothing or service to provide others and it causes an individual to be put into category of a low or lower or lowest economic state it defeats what the words really meaning. The word then becomes the word for a NOT beneficial Share is DISASTER! – especially for the individual(s) that end in a lower economic state that does not include an income.

Positive Share applies when an individual(s) is/are capable of assisting others at their own economic stationed state or where their knowledge is needed to help/assist others or a combination of both.